The University of Strathclyde is a data controller under data protection legislation. This privacy notice sets out important information regarding how we will use your information and your rights under the legislation. It is important that you read this notice prior to providing your information.

The Digital Health & Care Innovation Centre (“DHI”), which is hosted by the University of Strathclyde, is running the #DigInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition, where primary school pupils can work either as an individual, in pairs or in teams (of up to a maximum of 4 pupils) to come up with a digital health and care idea that can help them and all young people live fitter, healthier and happier lives.

Each application must nominate a schoolteacher who will act as mentor during the Challenge.

As part of the online application process certain personal data belonging to the mentor and team member(s) will be collected by the University of Strathclyde.

The data that will be collected is:

- School
 - Location of School (town)
 - Local authority
 - Schoolteacher’s name
 - Schoolteacher’s email address
 - Team name
 - Pupil name(s)
 - School stage

If an application team is selected as a winner or runner up in the #DigilInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition, and the applicants attend our award/ prize giving ceremony the DHI may capture photographs, video or audio of the mentors and team members as outlined below. This event will take place on Tuesday 18 April 2023, 1800-2000, at the City of Glasgow College, 190 Cathedral St, Glasgow. G4 0RF. To attend and participate, winners and runners up must complete and return a media consent form that will be shared in advance of the event.

How we use your personal data and who we may share it with

We will use the personal data you supply in the online application process to:

- ensure that you meet the criteria for applying to the #DigilInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition; and
- judge your application, which will be done by employees of the DHI and the employees/ students of other #DigilInventors Challenge partners.

If your application is selected as a winner or runner up in the #DigilInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition, a sponsor, partner, judge, the DHI, may capture photographs, video or audio footage of you for the following purposes:

1. to promote the #DigilInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition, by the DHI for the current and future challenges. Such promotion may include use in the DHI's advertising and resources in relation to the #DigilInventors Challenge, Primary School Edition, including but not limited to the #DigilInventors Challenge website (www.digiinventors.com), social media, advertising, press, film and video, radio and publications.
